CASES IN THE HUSTINGS COURT OF PE-TERSBURG.

& Peculiar Witness-Dr. Hatcher's Lecture-Sudden Death-Other Motes.

[Correspondence of the Richmond Dispatch.]

Petkesburg, Va., January 18, 1889.
In the Hostugs Court this morning the grand jury reported indictments against Messrs. Charles H. Cuthbert, James W. Couch, and T. L. Bond for selling courous without licences in violation of the State law. These gentlemen have, it is alleged, been openly and without any effort at concealment engaged for some time in the sale of coupons. The attention of the grand jury was called to the fact yeslerday by Judge Bernard, and the result is the indictments presented in court to-day. When these indictments will be tried it is not known. A similar indictment has been pending on the docket of this court for a vear against a well-known lawyer of Richmond, but it has never come to trial.

The grand jury also returned an indictment to-day against S. J. Barham. of Southment to county, for felony in stealing a horse belonging to his brother. The horse was recovered here after it had been sold, and the owner was not aware of the name of the party who brought the horse to Petersburg until he confronted him in the police-station. It is understood that the accused will be defended by a legal friend from Southmpton.

The cases of John Crocker and W. H. Scott (both colored), charged with receiving goods alleged to bave been stolen from the Norfolk and Western Railroad Company, were called for trial to-day, but postponed until the 31st instant. The Court overruled a motion for continuance until the next term, One of the peculiar facts about this case is that one of the main winesses for the procedurin is a negro maned William Grasty, who recently attempted to shoot the julier at Rosnoke, and sgaunst whom are pending a dozen or more indictments in different places for the larceny of goods from the railroad company. Every time that Grasty is brough he

Rev. Dr. William E. Hatcher, of Richmond, delivered his lecture on "Spurgeon and His Work" to a large audience at the First Baptist church last night. The sketch given by the lecturer of the life and character of the great English divine, and the story fold of the wonderful work and the story fold of the wonderful work and the sublime faith of the man elicited the profoundest attention and interest of the audience. After the lecture Dr. Hatcher was warmly greeted by many of his old friends here.

Mr. John DeJarnette, a well-known citizen and gallant Confederate soldier, died quite suddenly this morning at his home on Old street. He had been unwell for some days, but a crisis suddenly occurred this morning and death quiesky resulted.

The Mayor this morning imposed a fine of $9 on G. W. Carr for conducting an enterprise here without a license, and, furthermore, required him to take out a license.

It is reported that the answer of Hon, E. C. Venable to the notice of contest of his seat in the next Congress served upon him by John M. Langston has been completed and will shortly be made public. It is said to be a very strong and conclusive paper.

Falls Cherch, Va., January 17, 1886.

As many of your readers are at this time interested in this town, a brief description of it will perhaps not be amiss. It is located on the Washington, Ohlo and Western rall-road, and is by all edds the most flourishing town in Lastern Virginia. It has been incorporated for a number of years, the present mayor being Hon. Robert Morrison, a prominent lawser practioning in Washington. The population is 1,000 within the carporate limits. It is precamently the city of churches, there being nine in all, embracing almost as many different denominations. It has telegraphic communication with all parts of the country and telephone connections with Washington, Faitimore, and ciscwhere. It has four mais drily, and a fine graded school, with relead teachers for each grade and a large attendence of pupils. Property has steadily advanced within the past few months, with numerous sales. It is thought that not less than forty houses will be built this spring and summer. No less than a dezen are new in course of erection. this spring and summer. No less than dozen are now in course of eraction Washington city is but five miles distinct. I a direct line, and a new railroad is in con-templation, which will, when completed place the seilonal capital within ten muses ride of the town. Steps are being taken to form a mutual fire-themroace company

Near here is the well-known Minson nurseries, whose agents are scattered throughout this and other States. Here the Order of Good Templars in Virginia first started twenty-two years ago, and Pioneer Lodge. No. 1, still fives and thrives, with many of the names of prominent citizens of the town enrolled upon its books. Prohibition has been in force for many years and at the last local-oution election not a single vote out of several hundred was cast for the safe of honor, and the Good Templars Lodge of liquor, and the Good Templars Lodge has a standing reward of 250 offered for the detection and conviction of my one vootating the prohibition law. The office of the Grand on every nand. The people are law-loving, God-fearing, and the social advantages can-not be excelled. Where can be found a bel-ter place to rear a family?

Rev. Dr. Leonidas Rosser, of the Methodist Ediscopal Church, South, is now conducting a remarkable revival of religion here. Nearly seventy persons at this date have professed conversion. Nearly all are young persons; many are young men. Its ects upon the community and neighbor-od are evident. The church is crowded ghtly. Ministers of all denominations ness to his sermons, which he delivers with powerful force and effect. State Lectures for the Good Templars, Captain W. C. Dutton, was converted under the ministrations of this faithful servant of God.
